

The President

Brussels, 17 March 1989

Dear Colleague,

As agreed at our last meeting, there will be an extra meeting of our Committee on 19 April. Mr Lamfalussy has kindly said that the BIS will once again offer its facilities. This will be a great convenience especially for logistical reasons. For example, the interpreters there know well our style; and the text is on a word-processor there. I therefore confirm that the meeting will be held in Basle and that it will start at 10.00.

In the meantime our Rapporteurs will revise the draft of the report, taking into account the discussion at the last meeting and the suggestions that they have received. The whole of the new draft will be discussed on a paragraph by paragraph basis at our meeting in Basle on 11 and 12 April. The final amendments will then be made for the meeting on 19 April, at which the Committee should formally adopt the text.

Yours sincerely,

Jacques DELORS
